

TERROR ON TURTLE CREEK

JEAN FREEMAN

WITH ILLUSTRATIONS BY ROSEMARIE CONDON

If you were swept away in the rushing waters of a raging river, what would you do?

TITLE

Terror on Turtle Creek

AUTHOR & ILLUSTRATOR

Written by Jean Freeman

Illustrated by RoseMarie Condon

BOOK SPECS

July 2012 978-1-894431-77-4 Ages 8-12
144 pages, 5 x 7 $14.95 (softcover)

MARKETING TIPS

- Engaging adventure story
- Of interest to parents, teachers, schools, libraries
- Author Jean Freeman played the mayor's grandma on Canadian TV comedy "Corner Gas" for six seasons

PROMOTIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Fits with Evergreen Curriculum: English Language Arts
- Promotion on www.yournickelsworth.com

CONTENT

Barry is doing his best to overcome his reputation as a bit of a scaredy-cat when he volunteers to lend a hand filling sandbags to help prevent flooding in his home town of Valley View. But things don't go as planned, and he finds himself in a dangerous situation, having to cope with the raging river, a couple of criminals, and some grown-up responsibilities in the adventure of his life!

AUTHOR & ILLUSTRATOR INFORMATION

Jean Freeman writer, producer and performer, lives in Regina, SK. This is Jean's first chapter book, but she has also written three popular picture books — Where Does Your Dog Sleep?, Where Does Your Cat Nap? and Wascana Wild Goose Chase. She has also written TV scripts for "Putnam's Prairie Emporium" and "Incredible Story Studio." Jean is a professional speaker and actor as well as a writer and story-teller, and for six seasons she played the mayor's grandma in the popular Canadian TV comedy series, "Corner Gas."

RoseMarie Condon finds her inspiration in the Canadian wilderness and its flora and fauna. She is an award-winning fine artist, photographer and writer. Also an illustrator/designer, she has employed her love of whimsy to create children's games, books, toys and animated Christmas windows. RoseMarie's studio is in the jewel of the City of Kawartha Lakes, Fenelon Falls, Ontario.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Your Nickel's Worth Publishing

74 Academy Park Road Regina, SK S4S 4T7
PH: 306-564-4957 FAX: 306-569-7467
EMAIL: heather@yournickelsworth.com